

PRISON DOOR TO OPEN FOR COLE

Former Marinette County Clerk Of Court Who Embezzled $2,500 Will Be Released
On Parole.

DUNBAR MAN WILL BE HIS SURETY

Wife Has Secured Divorce, And Seven Children Have Been Adopted By Families In Various Parts Of State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Marinette, Wis., Aug. 8.—Arthur Cole who was sentenced to serve a term of two and a half years in state prison for the embezzlement of $2,500 while clerk of court, will be paroled by the board of control which meets on August 20. J. S. Wells, a wealthy lumberman of Dunbar, Wis., will act as surety for Cole and he will leave Waupaca to work for Wells. He has already served about half of his sentence.

Arthur Cole was born in and spent the most of his life in one of the small settlements of Marinette county. At the time of his election to the office of clerk of court he was straightforward, industrious young man of pleasant address and quiet do-

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lake Mills, Wis., Aug. 8.—The Rev. Henry Paville of La Crosse has arrived here after one of the most unique trips ever undertaken, excepting in the days of '49. Rev. Mr. Paville drove from the Crescent City in a single rig, making the journey in short stages. The distance is almost 165 miles. Mr. Paville is visiting his family here and will remain a month. He makes the trip annually.

AMATEUR OARSMEN, READY FOR REGATTA

Thirty-Seventh Annual Contest Among
National Oarsmen To Take Place
On Schuylkill River.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 8.—The thirty-fifth annual championship regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which will take place on the Schuylkill river tomorrow and Saturday has attracted here several hundred oarsmen, including the pick of the amateur scullers on the continent. The presence of the German crews gives an international aspect to the regatta. It will also spur the American crews to their best speed in order not to lose any of the championship trophies to the foreigners.

The races will be the intermediate, associate senior and championship senior single sculls, intermediate and senior international four-oared shells, and intermediate and senior eight-oared shells. All the races will be held over a mile and a half straight way course.

DISCUSS PRACTICAL METHODS OF GROWING

Indiana Fruit Growers Spend Interesting Day At Meeting At Purdue University.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

La Fayette, Ind., Aug. 8.—This was another interesting and profitable day for the many fruit growers gathered at Purdue University in attendance on the annual meeting of the Indiana Horticultural Society. A considerable part of the forenoon was taken up with practical demonstration work in spraying. The demonstrations were conducted in the experiment orchard connected with the university.

The program at the afternoon session included addresses as follows: "Our Sweet Friends," Prof. James Troop of Purdue; "Commercial Orcharding," Prof. J. C. Whittier, of the University of Missouri; "The Value of the Pure Food Law to Horticulturists," Dr. H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner of Indiana; "Effects of Commercial Fertilizers on the Quality of Potatoes," Prof. S. D. Conner, of Purdue.

TO HANG FOR ASSAULT.
New Orleans, Aug. 8.—Sheriff Long has completed arrangements for the execution tomorrow of Lazar Melojevich, alias George Morris, convicted of criminal assault. Melojevich was indicted for criminally assaulting a young girl named Lillian Burchers on Aug. 3, 1906, and was tried and convicted last October. The case was taken to the supreme court, which tribunal refused a new trial.

NOTABLES TO APPEAR IN SOCIETY CIRCUS

Ex-Chief of Police to be Ring Master
Assisted by Pugilistic Lights—Actors
Will Be in It Too.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Aug. 8.—There are to be great doings for the summer colony at Rockaway Beach during the remainder of this week, for every man, woman and child is expected to attend the pleasures of the sun and beach for the time being and devote their whole attention to the society circus to be given for the benefit of the Lima Roman Catholic Church, of that place. Rockaway boasts of many notables among its summer residents and all of them have volunteered their services for the tented show. Ex-Chief of Police William Deverey is to act as ring master, and four bright lights of pugilism, James J. Corbett, "Tommy" Murphy, "Young Corbett," and "Him" Donovan, will see that no one gets under the canvas without giving on the requisite amount of coin. Lillian Russell, Lou Fields and other stage celebrities are numbered among the list of entertainers.

May Put Up Car Within Reach of
People of Moderate Means—Former Bank Cashier Starts Plan.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Columbus, O., Aug. 8.—Harry J. Hoover, who was released today from the Ohio state penitentiary, is to engage in the business of manufacturing automobiles and if his plans go through a good motor car will soon be within reach of persons of moderate means. Hoover is a former bank cashier of Newark and was sent to prison for embezzlement. While in prison he formed a friendship with Harry Reynolds, who was sent up from Cleveland for bigamy. Reynolds, who was recently released on parole, devoted much of his time in prison to working on plans for a cheap automobile. Before his release he had perfected inventions and plans for building a serviceable motor car that can be placed on the market at about $150. Reynolds and Hoover have formed a partnership for their venture and it is said they have secured the financial backing of a prominent New York capitalist who formerly lived in New York.

BAY HORSE SHOW A POPULAR STUNT NOW

Seventh Annual Exhibition of Horses and Driving Held Under Auspices of a New York Society.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Bay Shore, L. I., Aug. 8.—Keen driving competitions, an admirable display of horse flesh, and an outfit of cottages and guests were the features of the seventh annual exhibition opened today under the auspices of the Bay Shore Horse Show association. The exhibition, which is to continue through Friday and Saturday, is the largest ever held by the Bay Shore organization. Alfred G. Vanderbilt had a big entry, including several of the horses that won in the recent international show in London. Other prominent stables of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other cities are also represented. The Bay Shore show when it first started was only patronized by summer residents in this vicinity, but of late years it has grown so popular that exhibits are made by many of the best pugilists of the horse, and both in the number and quality of the exhibits the show rivals the annual exhibitions at Long Branch, Lenox, and other fashionable resorts.

Beautiful Costumes

New York Herald, June 4th: The costumes intended for the lady members of "The Irish Pavement" were selected by Chief of Treasury Agents Heron this morning and are piled up in the saleroom of the Custom House. Manager Spears called at the Custom House this afternoon and held a conference with Collector Erhardt and Chief Heron. The costumes were valued at $5,000, and the average duty on them would be nearly 50 per cent.
It is probable, however, that they will be allowed to pass free of duty. They should have been entered at Parks as "tools of trade," and it was through a blunder on the other side that they were not.

APARTMENT HOUSE LIFE.

To cook is forbidden in some fashionable apartment-houses, and when an occupant of one developed an after-theatre appetite for fried onions, the people in the rooms overhead promptly remonstrated and had the feast suppressed. Afterwards, as the story goes, the heads of the two families became intimate, and the onion-lover reproached the other man for being so particular. "Oh, I wouldn't find fault with you now," was the response.
"My digestion is improved and my diet position with it, since we have been taking our meals at my wife's mother's—you see she uses BEN HUR FLOUR and everything she bakes is simply fine and beautiful and I feel like another man." BEN HUR FLOUR is clean and pure.

NOTHING IS LOST
BY A SMALL BOY

DARUM & BAILEY SHOWS ARRIVED EARLY THIS MORNING.

BOYS MUCH IN EVIDENCE

At the Depot and Show Grounds—
This Afternoon's Performance

Was a Stemwinder.

If Barnum & Bailey's management thought they were going to be able to do away with the small boy by slipping into Janesville in the middle of the night they were mistaken. Full soul-stirring slide down a sharp incline on side—Norwegian snowshoes.

It double-discounted anything seen before in the breakneck line, for it was patent at a glance that the man's life was safeguarded by no mechanical convenience. On his own skill and strength and courage alone did his very existence hang. He lacked even the pole with which the skateskater usually balances himself when skimming down a glacier's broad breast.
And his act was a mad dash down a ribbon of wood that didn't look to be two feet wide. Nor was the slide all of it. Sensational enough would the act have been had Howelson simply coasted down the wood ribbon and stopped against an air cushion or in a tank of water.

But his slide started near the roof of the tent, and when he was within a few feet of the ground the worst was yet to come. There was a sudden stop, and the boy was suspended in mid-air, his feet still in the snowshoes.

MORE MIXING

Under the caption, "Let There Be More Mixing," an eastern daily proceeds to argue that the sectional lines of the North, South, East and West should be lost sight of and the people, one and united, be gathered together to discuss matters of national importance.

"Every state in the union has in it men of presidential timber. Why should they not be more widely known so that as the time approaches for nominations, a wider range of choice could be presented. Instead of taking it for granted that this one or that individual in either party has the right of way for the first office in the gift of the people?

"Another good result of this would be the necessity which follows of discussing the issues as well as the men. Favorable men represent living principles and stand for questions which must be threshed out as a part of the campaign. The discussion of these issues, nearly all of which are economic in their character, and apply to business more or less directly, should have a broadening effect and an educating result from one end of the country to the other.

"The tariff, for instance, has so long been suffered to run into the rut of high protection that there has been little discussion of it from the standpoint of the different sections of the country. The North would like to know how the South views the tariff issue. The East would like to understand what the Western attitude is, and each great division of the country would be wiser for having the viewpoint of the other presented in its true light.

"For the purposes of a more unified understanding of these and other issues there should be a greater mixing up of speakers and candidates, not only as a preliminary to the national convention, but as a part of the campaign. The southern democrat, should be more frequently before northern and western audiences, the northern and western republican should not be so hard to find in the plans of campaign for the South. There should be less of the sectional standpoint and more of the national conception of politics.

"We know too little of each other's attitude. The country is too big to be sectionalized. The Southwest beyond the Mississippi and the Missouri should know something more of the complexion of political thought and the attitude of the leaders on economic questions, which is found east of the Hudson. If this were done the presidential campaign would result in the greater satisfaction of the voters of the country rather than in the creation of antagonisms on questions which after all have to be decided by the business judgment of the electors."

NO LYNCHING OF CORPORATIONS

There have been a number of horrible crimes against little children on the east side of New York city. The people there have become aroused to the point of frenzy, and several men suspected of being concerned in these crimes have been attacked and would have been lynched but for the intervention of the police. On Sunday a mob attacked savagely a suspect, stripped him bare of his clothes and knocked him nearly senseless. But for the protection of the police he would probably have been killed.

This is the same spirit which has been responsible for the lynching of the negroes in the south. When there have been a long series of crimes, and especially where the law and the courts have seemed unable to give adequate protection, the people take the matters into their own hands and proceed to inflict the severest punishment. Perhaps now and then an innocent man is burned at the stake, but what matters this if only the crimes are prevented?

Something of this kind is taking place in the arena of business. For a number of years the people have been smarting under the crimes of corporations, which, regardless of law and justice, have been seeking their own profit without any thought of public rights or public interest. Competition which should be the life of trade has been used for its destruction, and for the establishment of monopoly and wrong. The states have been incorporated under their laws, and there have been such a multitude of abuses and exactions, large and small, as at last to drive the people to the point of frenzy.

Now the abuses of capital were self-evident. The wrongs inflicted by corporations, selfishness called for vigorous reform. In many cases the more enlightened directors of the corporations saw this themselves, and proceeded with courageous intelligence to correct the existing evils. But in too many other cases resistance was made to what was the plain course of justice. The popular sense of wrong was thereby deepened.

What has happened is exactly the same as has taken place in the south in the lynching of negroes and in the city of New York in the lawless attacks on men suspected of outrageous crimes. In other words, the people have taken to lynching the corporations. The lynching is in the act of legislatures enacting confederate laws. It is in the act of a governor revoking the license of a railroad because it appeals to the federal courts for protection. The mob in some cases has taken to stripping the corporation bare just as the mob on the East Side stripped and brutalized and wounded a man suspected of injuring a child.

Now it is the duty of all good citizens to protect the corporations against lynching just as it has been the duty of good citizens to protect the rights of the people against the abuses and wrongs in corporation management. We want no lynch law in this country.

THAT SUNDAY CLOSING

How authentic the report is that the saloon people are trying to make a combine, hire an attorney and if not allowed, to be open on Sunday, close drugstores, stop streetcars; in fact, make Janesville literally a dead town, is not known, but it is known that since the saloons have been closed on Sunday, merchants, factory owners and people generally have expressed their approval. The idea has been demonstrated to be a good one and it is to be hoped it will continue in force for the present at least.

IS AN EPIDEMIC

The good roads movement has become an epidemic. A peculiar feature of the disease is that different states are boasting of the spread of the disease and are taking steps to increase its popularity instead of trying to check its course. It is one of the few epidemics that does a community good and is a benefit to mankind at large. The farmers in the southern portion of the county are anxiously watching the results that will be obtained by the Government experts in the townships of Clinton and Beloit and upon the success in this district will depend the future course of the disease in Rock county.

Today is circus day and as a matter of precaution all doors and windows should be securely locked this evening if you leave the house. There is a possibility that thieves follow crooks to ply their trade.

The oldtime circus without a circus is a novelty to Janesville, but Barnum & Bailey appear to be able to do business without it and the management say that the merchants and police say that it gives better satisfaction.

The question of raising the pay of the policeman who guards and protects the city's interests is one worth considering. There is much that can be said in its favor.

Milwaukee Journal: Victor Berger's philosophy of life as a teacher and writer is to be against everything that is. He manages, however, to get a good living, and a great deal of wholesome pleasure out of life in this "capitalistic" country.

Alaskan Coal—All For John D.

Milwaukee Free Press: Great discoveries of anthracite coal in Alaska—greater than the fields of Pennsylvania—will interest Divine Right Miner and the other barons. This coal was found by one of the professors in Mr. Rockefeller's university, and possibly John D. will claim it on that account.

Conspiracy of the Barbers.

Milwaukee Sentinel: And now it appears that in various cities, the barbers, after increasing the price of shaves, have also advanced their charges for honing razors, with a view of discouraging men from attending to their own tonsorial necessities. This begins to look like a conspiracy to advance the propagation of whiskers.

First Also in Motor Boats.

Evening Wisconsin: The American motor boat Dixie has captured the International marine motor cup in the racing at Southampton, defeating the nearest British boat, the Daimler II, three-fourths of a mile over a thirty-five mile course. The American yacht designer generally turns out a winner in either motor or sail racing.

Apathy and Worst Yet.

Beloit Free Press: At the recent Filipino election the "little brown men" took about as much interest in the affair as the voters of Wisconsin at a primary election. Scarcey ten per cent of those entitled to vote took the trouble to register. Of those voting the majority appear to have voted for "immediate independence" of American rule.

Gowns Must Have Pockets.

Exchange: The princess of Wales sets a good many styles for women in a quiet way. She keeps up with most of the fads, but there is one she will not tolerate. She insists that all her gowns have sensible pockets. The pocket in all her skirts is always placed in the seam and appears on the left of the front breadth of the skirt.

Slight May Not be Overlooked.

Milwaukee Journal: After having "rescued" the girl who fell into Yel- lowstone lake, Mr. Farhanks carelessly forgot to mention that two Wisconsin boys pulled her out of the water. This bit of mental aberration may cause certain Wisconsin delegates to the national convention next year to feel that the gentleman from Indiana drinks too much buttermilk for the good of his nerves.

St. Gaudens' Lincoln.

Chicago Record-Herald: The obituary notices of St. Gaudens contain evidence in abundance of the high value that was put upon his art by judges of acknowledged authority. It is well known, however, that the masses of the people do not always follow such judges and that they may not approve of what is called bad art by superior critics. But there is a pretty general agreement on the subject of the statue of Lincoln at Lincoln Park in this city, and it seldom fails to the lot of any artist to have his work so reverenced by all sorts and conditions of men as is this masterpiece.

Vardaman Defeated.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The victory of John Sharp Williams over the un instructed and unscrupulous James K. Vardaman is gratifying, but it would have been much more gratifying had it been signal enough to constitute an unmistakable popular rebuke to the bombastic and bourbon governor.

The primaries were held to nominate a senator, and Mr. Williams' nomination is equivalent to election.

The division or alignment of the voters in point of intelligence was sufficiently marked to reflect the personalities of the candidates.

Mr. Williams was strong in the urban and more thickly settled districts, where there is a good sprinkling of school-houses and a spirit of progress and industry; while Mr. Vardaman rolled up his votes mainly in the way-back and turpentine "destricts" where social conditions offer little from "heds" to "wah" to "wah," except that nowadays the whites do not do all the loading and the blacks all the work.

TRUST BUSTING

The most popular man in the hearts of the American people today is President Roosevelt.

Why? Because he stands for the "square deal" to the common people as well as to the corporations.

He takes the side of the people who need things and against the combinations that would take advantage of their needs, to extort undue gains.

These are days when lots of men find it to their profit to combine and raise prices.

In Dentistry, Dr. Richards of Janesville holds aloof from all local combines and maintains his prices on a living, reasonable basis.

One lady recently saved $17 on her dental bill by selecting him to do her dental work.

HUNT OIL EVIDENCE ON INDIANA VISIT

GOVERNMENT ATTORNEYS MAKE A MYSTERIOUS TRIP.

FOLLOW CLEW TO REBATE

Moritz Rosenthal Denies Standard
Company Has Made Defensive Alliance with the Railroads.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Reports that District Attorney Sims and his special assistant, James H. Wilkerson, had gone to Indianapolis Wednesday added mystery to the unexplained mission of the district attorney on which he left Chicago Monday evening. Judge Landis is in Indianapolis, having gone there to hold court in the absence of United States District Judge A. D. Andrew.

Acting United States Attorney Robert W. Childs refused to disclose the whereabouts of Mr. Sims, but did not deny that he was in the Indiana capital.

That Mr. Sims and Mr. Wilkerson have gone to Indiana to search personally for evidence to be used in the further prosecutions of the Standard Oil company and the railroads that are declared to have been granting the company illegal concessions is believed to be probable.

Inquiry into Indiana Shipments.

One of the indictments against the Standard Oil company that is still pending relates to shipments of oil over the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway to Evansville, Ind., by way of Dolt Junction, Ill. These transactions are believed to be the subject of inquiry by the government lawyers in Indiana.

Special Assistant Attorney General O. C. Pagni and Attorney Childs held another conference Wednesday. It was said that Mr. Pagni would leave for Washington Thursday. He would not discuss his mission in Chicago.

Moritz Rosenthal of counsel for the Standard Oil company in the case that resulted in Judge Landis' recording breaking the return Tuesday evening from New York, and when questioned concerning the plans of the defense said that he did not know, as he had not consulted with his colleagues.

"My associates are in Europe," said he, "and will not return until September. The decision of Judge Landis will have no effect whatever on my vacation, or on the vacations of any of us."

John S. Miller, chief counsel during the trial, and Alfred D. Eddy, western counsel for Standard Oil, are taking their vacations abroad, while Mr. Rosenthal has been at Far Rockaway, Beach, N. Y.

Denies Oil-Railroad Alliance.
"It is true that the Standard Oil company and the railroads are arranging a compact for the purpose of fighting the government's prosecutions," was asked.

"No, sir," replied Mr. Rosenthal with emphasis. "It is not true. The Standard Oil company will fight its own battles and the railway companies may fight their own."

While the government lawyers are awaiting United States marshals are continuing their search for the man for whom summonses have been issued calling them for grand jury service August 14. T. C. MacMillan, clerk of the United States district court, and one of the jury commissioners, said that the venture would be representative of 14 counties.

G. W. DELAMATER A SUICIDE.

Once Prominent Pennsylvania Politician Takes His Own Life.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 8.—George Wallace Delamater, once candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and who served as state senator from Crawford county from 1887 to 1890, committed suicide by shooting Wednesday in his office in this city. Occupants of neighboring offices in the Diamond National bank building found him dead with a 36-caliber bullet hole in his right temple.

Grief over the death of his father, George H. Delamater, at Meadville, Pa., on May 6, and the sudden death of his son, James Scott Delamater, in June at Connellsville, Pa., is believed to be the cause of his suicide.

Shirley P. Austin, a son-in-law, who took charge of the body, declared that the dead man's affairs were in no way involved and that he had nothing to worry about. He was connected with the Prudential Life Insurance company in this city and leaves a comfortable fortune to his family, being heavily insured. Mr. Delamater was born March 18, 1849, in Meadville, Pa.

Tennessee Bank Resumes Business.

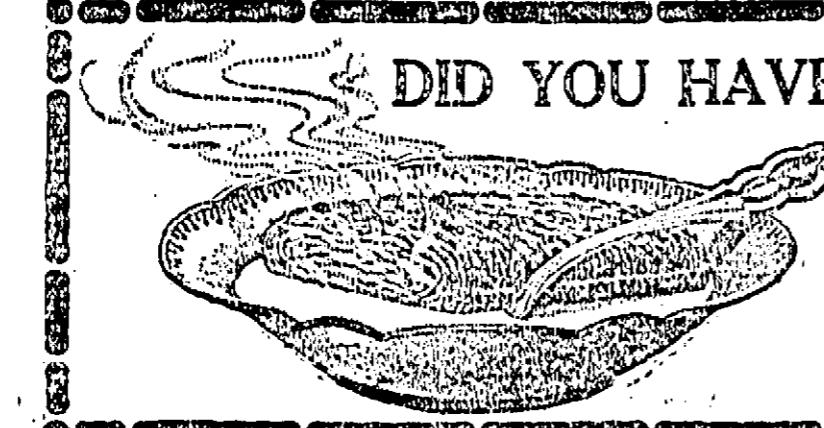

Washington, Aug. 8.—The controller of the currency announced Wednesday that the People's National bank of Gallatin, Tenn., which was declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver on July 18, has been permitted to reopen its doors for business. The bank's capital stock is now unimpeded, according to the announcement.

DARES NOT GO TO NEW YORK

CHANLER WOULD RISK BEING PUT IN ASYLUM AGAIN.

Federal Judge Hough Refuses Order
That Would Permit Him to Return for Law Suit.

New York, Aug. 8.—If John Armstrong Chanler, the wealthy New York who escaped from an insane asylum in this state several years ago, and fled to Virginia, where the courts declared him sane, comes back to New York to prosecute a suit he has instituted to get control of his property, he will do so at the risk of being incarcerated as a lunatic, according to a decision of Judge Hough, in the United States circuit court Wednesday.

Chanler, who is the divorced husband of Amelie Rives, the authoress, was adjudged insane by the supreme court in this city and committed to an asylum. Thomas T. Sherman was appointed as a committee to take charge of Chanler and his estate. Later Chanler escaped to Virginia. He invoked the aid of the courts, which declared him sane and competent to have control of his property. The latter, however, being still in possession of the supreme court's committee of this state, Mr. Chanler brought suit in the federal court of this district to force Mr. Sherman to restore it to him.

Fearing that if he returned to prosecute his action, he would be seized and again remanded to the insane asylum, Mr. Chanler, through his counsel, last week petitioned Judge Hough to grant an order restraining the supreme court and its officers from interfering with him should he appear in New York.

This Judge Hough declined to do in his decision handed down Wednesday.

RAILWAY STRIKE MAY SPREAD.

Other Western Roads Threatened— Citizens Man Fuel Train.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 8.—There is no prospect of a settlement of the strike on the Colorado & Southern road, and it may spread to other western railroads. Grievance committees of the Denver & Rio Grande and other roads are in the city, and they will make a demand for an additional two cents an hour for the yardmen.

Sixteen of the larger mines near Trinidad, depending directly on the Colorado & Southern for handling their product, closed down Wednesday indefinitely as a result of the switchmen's strike. The shutdown threw some 3,000 men out of employment.

To prevent the closing of their mines, which would entail a loss of thousands of dollars, and to relieve a threatened coal famine at Central City, ten of Central City's most prominent citizens manned a train of fuel destined for that district. They took charge of the freight at Golden, where it had been held up since the calling of the strike of trainmen on the Colorado & Southern.

Medicinal Tobacco.

Tobacco may be a luxury, but it is also a splendid disinfectant, and rarely, in my experience, does a smoker take an infectious disease. This being so, I cannot look upon the moderate use of tobacco entirely in the light of a luxury. It is a preventive medicine.—London Argus.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY C. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

Turning to Jefferson, he went on: "For your mother's sake, my boy, I have overlooked your little eccentricities of character. But now we have arrived at the parting of the ways—you have gone too far. The one aspect of this business I cannot overlook is your willingness to sell your own father for the sake of a woman."

"My own father," interrupted Jefferson bitterly, "would not hesitate to sell me if his business and political interests warranted the sacrifice!"

Shirley attempted the role of peacemaker. Appealing to the younger man, she said:

"Please don't talk like that, Mr. Jefferson." Then she turned to Ryder senior: "I don't think your son quite understands you, Mr. Ryder, and, if you will pardon me, I don't think you quite understand him. Do you realize that there is a man's life at stake—that Judge Rossmore is almost at the point of death and that favorable news from the courts tomorrow is perhaps the only thing that can save him?"

"Ah, I see," sneered Ryder senior. "Judge Scott's story has aroused your sympathy."

"Yes, I—I confess my sympathy is aroused. I do feel for this father whose life is slowly ebbing away—whose strength is being sapped hourly by the thought of the disgrace—the injustice that is being done him! I do feel for the wife of this suffering man!"

"Ah, it's a complete picture!" cried Ryder mockingly. "The dying father, the sorrowing mother—and the daughter, what is she supposed to be doing?"

"She is fighting for her father's life," cried Shirley, "and you, Mr. Jefferson, should have pleaded—pleaded—not demanded. It's no use trying to combat your father's will."

"She is quite right, father. I should have implied you, I do so now, I ask you for God's sake to help us!"

Ryder was grim and silent. He rose from his seat and paced the room, puffing savagely at his cigar. Then he turned and said:

"His removal is a political necessity. If he goes back on the bench every party justice of the peace, every petty official will think he has a special mission to tear down the structure that hard work and capital have erected. No, this man has been especially conspicuous in his efforts to block the progress of amalgamated interests."

"And so he must be sacrificed!" cried Shirley indignantly.

"He is a meddlesome man," insisted Ryder, "and—"

"He is innocent of the charges brought against him," urged Jefferson. "Mr. Ryder is not considering that point," said Shirley bitterly. "All he can see is that it is necessary to put this poor old man in the public pillory, to set him up as a warning to others of his class not to act in accordance with the principles of truth and justice—not to dare to obstruct the ear of Juggernaut set in motion by the money gods of the country!"

"It's the survival of the fittest, my dear," said Ryder coldly.

"Oh," cried Shirley, making a last appeal to the financier's heart of stone, "use your great influence, with this governing body for good, not evil! Urge them to vote not in accordance with party policy and personal interest, but in accordance with their consciences—in accordance with truth and justice! Ah, for God's sake, Mr. Ryder, don't permit this foul injustice to blot the name of the highest tribunal in the western world!"

Ryder laughed cynically.

"By Jove! Jefferson, I give you credit for having secured an eloquent advocate!"

"Suppose," went on Shirley, ignoring his taunting comments, "suppose this daughter promises that she will never—ever see your son again—that she will go away to some foreign country?"

"No!" burst in Jefferson. "Why should she? If my father is not man enough to do a simple act of justice without bartering a woman's happiness and her son's happiness, let him stand in his self-justification!"

Shirley, completely unnerved, made a move toward the door, unable longer to bear the strain she was under. She tottered as though she would fall. Ryder made a quick movement toward her, snatched her by the arm. Pointing to Shirley, he said in a low tone:

"You see how the girl pleads your cause for you! She loves you, my boy!" Jefferson started. "Yes, she does," pursued Ryder senior. "She's worth a thousand of the Rossmore woman. Make her my wife, and I'll—"

"Make her my wife!" cried Jefferson joyously. He stared at his parent as if he thought he had suddenly been bereft of his senses.

SPANIARD SWEARS HE IS NOT GUILTY

A. S. Wright Acting as Interpreter
Trial Set For Wednesday,
August 14.

Thomas Cataran, the Spaniard captured by City Marshal Cal Brannon of Evansville and Deputy Sheriff Fred Gilham in a cornfield in Dune county last Monday, protested his innocence—in Spanish—before Judge Pifford this morning. A. S. Wright, a St. Paul brakeman, was interpreter and gave Señor Cataran to understand that things looked dubious for him, inasmuch as rings, a certificate of deposit for $125, and other articles, stolen from Evansville homes, not to mention about $10 believed to be the property of the same householders, were found upon his person. The prisoner strenuously denied ever having had such articles on his person and kissed his knuckles and crossed himself in proof of the solemn truth of his assertions. The watch stolen from a Catholic priest which Sheriff Fisher located in a Clark street, Chicago, pawnshop through a ticket found in Cataran's pockets, he claimed was purchased by him in New York. He had been in this country seven months and said that he was a tailor by trade. Mr. Wright tried to appeal to the man's religious teachings but Cataran excitedly declared that he didn't care whether he went to heaven or not and that he would kill himself before he would spend a long term in prison. He also took occasion to say that the menu at the Hotel Fisher was not of the high standard to which he had been accustomed. On his plea of "not guilty" and waiver of the examination, his trial was set for, Wednesday, August 14. Bonds of $200 were stipulated. In the meantime the local authorities will communicate with the Spanish consul in Chicago, offering the latter an opportunity to secure counsel for the man if he sees fit so to do.

EAR RINGS OF ARAB WOMEN.

The ears of an Arab baby girl are pierced in six places on the seventh day after her birth. When she is two months old heavy gold rings are placed in these holes, and are worn throughout life, except in periods of mourning.

It is estimated that the total first cost of England's present navy was $670,000,000, and about $200,000,000 have been spent in the last ten years.

THE WORK OF A MOTHER.

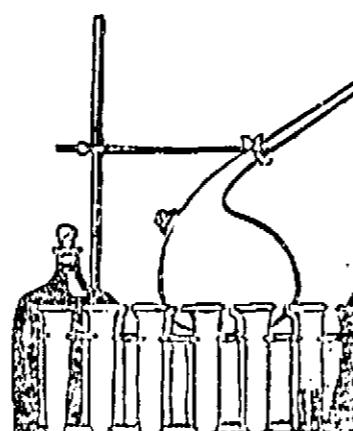

Surely Hero is a Record Worthy of All Honor.

In a recent issue of a New York newspaper some one, signing himself "A Son," has thought it worth while, in a few brief words, to tell the most interesting story he knows. There is so much in it of interest to other mothers, we pass it along: "My mother brought up a family of 13 children on a small income. She is 75 years of age, and is sound and well. She has all her life done most of her own housework. The meals she cooks with her own soft hands are not only the most nutritious and the most palatable that any of her children or her guests have eaten, but have always been the most bountiful. I estimate that, during the 57 years of her career as the head of her own commissary department this lady has put upon her table before her own family and her guests no less than 375,000 meals. I submit this as a record worthy of honor."

DIXON'S NEW BOOK.
Rockford Register-Gazette: Rev.

Thomas Dixon, Jr., is the successor of the late Judge Toussaint, in writing books dealing with the reconstruction period and the negro problem. Judge Toussaint sprang at once into fame when he wrote "The Fool's Errand," and none of his numerous later volumes rivaled his first in popular interest.

Thomas Dixon has written a new book, "The Traitor." It is the third in a series of three volumes, of which "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman" are the first and second respectively. "The Traitor" is a story of the

BEN-HUR FLOUR

If you have ever tried it you know why. If you have not, something good is in store for you. Light, beautiful Bread, Rolls, Cakes and Pies that have just the right flavor and finish, will grace your table if you use Ben Hur Flour. Whether you work with brain or muscle, or better still, if you work with both, you need rich, fine, wholesome Bread to do your work well and bring out the best efforts that are in you. The richest, finest, most wholesome loaf that ever came out of any oven is made from Ben Hur Flour. It contains more nutriment than bread made from other flour and keeps light and moist longer. Ben Hur Flour costs no more, and every sack used means a saving to the man who pays the bills. We never have to argue with a housewife who has used Ben Hur. It does its own arguing. Tell your grocer to send a sack next time you order flour.
